

PRESS RELEASE

ALL NRG Group recruits new CEO from Siemens Wind Power A/S

On 1 March 2016, Ken Soerensen, currently Senior Vice President at Siemens Wind Power A/S, will become CEO of ALL NRG Group.

For the last four years, Ken Soerensen has been head of Global Product Line Service Wind at Siemens Wind Power. Ken Soerensen has an extensive international background at Broen A/S and The Boston Consulting Group.

“With the continued development of ALL NRG in mind, it is a pleasure to announce that Ken Soerensen has accepted the job as CEO of ALL NRG Group. We foresee substantial growth of the Group in the coming years, and Ken’s unique insight into the service market from his time with Siemens Wind Power will be crucial in our future strategy work”, says Peter Thorlund Haahr, board chairman of ALL NRG Group. “Ken is a skilled businessman with great analytical capacity and he has the will power and the ability to execute. With Ken’s solid executive background and strong communication skills, we have found the right man who can help us take the next step towards becoming the leading supplier of competent solutions for the energy industry”, Peter Thorlund Haahr continues.

“ALL NRG Group is an exciting setup, with a great potential for growth, which I am very happy to be heading. During my time at Siemens Wind Power, I have seen how important it is with competent subcontractors, who are able to help the OEMs in the continuing effort to lower the costs of wind energy. I already know several of the companies within ALL NRG Group from the customer side, and I consider them highly competent in their respective fields. All companies within ALL NRG have strong track records as independent companies, and there are significant synergies between them, which can be exploited going forward. I believe there is a need for consolidation in the industry, and I find the idea behind ALL NRG - a company with many complementary competencies - as highly visionary”, says Ken Sørensen. “I believe in partnerships. Based on the competencies ALL NRG already possesses and the plans I have discussed with the supervisory board, I feel confident that I can contribute to making ALL NRG Group an even more attractive partner in the coming years”, Ken Soerensen adds.
